At the Summit, you'll engage in plenary talks, breakout sessions, panel discussions, and round-table conversations. Experience firsthand the learning and thinking practices through classroom documentation, pedagogical tools, and CoT coaching protocols. A focus on leadership skills for sustaining these practices in your own setting will also be explored.

For those attending the optional Monday session, you'll visit classrooms and observe CoT in action at a school that has been dedicated to this approach for seven years. Guided by Ron Ritchhart and Mark Church, you'll sharpen your observational skills, hearing from teachers and administrators to deepen your understanding of building a Culture of Thinking.
